When to use which decrease:
